START

A new girl came to school today.

I smiled at her.

I told her my name.

So I quit.

I wouldn't talk to her.

I asked the Lord to help me.

The other kids made fun of me for being nice.

I felt horrible.

I had a bad day.

I loaned her a pencil.

She didn't say "Thank you."

I didn't talk to her anymore.

I asked her to have lunch with me.

I decided she was shy.

We went outside to take a walk.

She said, "Yes."

The other kids pointed and laughed at us.

I told her to ignore them.

I told her what a nice kid I am!

I ate as quickly as I could.

She didn't go to Sunday school so I asked her to go with me.

I asked her about her family.

I lost a friend before I made one.

Then I left her alone.

She's coming to Sunday school with me next Sunday!

I asked her to come to my house.

She told me she wanted to be my friend.
